WORK SOON ON BIG OVERPASS

Work on a multi-million dollar overpass in Millers Road will start later this month.

The overpass is designed to eliminate the dangerous Geelong railway line level crossing near Paisley Railway Station.

It will be constructed by the Country Roads Board, and work should take about 20 months.

Preliminary work, including a side-track, should be finished by June, and work on the overpass is scheduled to start early in July.

Altona's city engineer, Mr. Ralph Simmons, told the Star the overpass would not affect homes in the area.

He said all land acquisition for the project was completed some months ago.

The Country Roads Board bought vacant land north of the railway crossing and land on the west side of Millers Road from Australian Carbon Black.

Mr. Simmons said the level crossing was very dangerous, and council would be happy to see it go.

He added traffic travelled fast on Millers Road, and the crossing had been the scene of several fatal accidents.

Pop concert on the way

Big things are planned for the Altona Pop Festival, at the H. C. Kim Reserve this year.

Entrepreneur Julian Cumming, who is co-directing the affair read off a list of performers which sounds like a who's who of Australian pop show business.

Daddy Cool, the Incredible Wendy Saddington, King Harvest, Doug Parkinson and Fanny Adams, Billy Thorpe and Running Jumping Standing Still, are just a few of the groups who will be seen.

A first for the festival will be the first outdoor appearance by Running Jumping Standing Still, who have just reformed, and for Fanny Adams, who are the reformed members of Parkinson's In Focus group.

King Harvest will be promoting their latest record, Jumping Jack Flash, which will be released throughout Australia soon after the festival.

One of the highlights of the festival will be Jeff Crozier and his Indian Magic Show.

Jeff is the only pop magician in Australia, and his act is most spectacular.

The entire show, which will run for about seven hours, will be artistically co-ordinated by David Flint, of the Thumpin' Tum Disco.

He is arranging a light show aided by sky rockets and crackers.

Of interest to parents, the festival will be supervised by popular sporting personality Brendan Jackson.

Her son David was the top cadet at the Victoria Police graduation ceremony last Friday.

Mrs. Chalmers said: "His senior instructor told me that normally he would have been dux of his class as well, except for unusually strong competition."

David was defeated narrowly by two recruits for the top honors.

Mrs. Chalmers said: "One of the men who defeated him was a university graduate and a returned serviceman. The other had many years service with the British Police."

David, 18, looks like

The (show) girl next door

Rhonda Nicholls, 18, of Civic Parade, Altona (above) is a typical fresh-faced teenager, who likes swimming and horse-riding.

By night she turns into an exotic showgirl who outdazzles the international stars appearing at Casino de Paris, Her Majesty's Theatre.

The transformation is dramatic.

Rhonda, who has green eyes and long black hair wears a short black wig, sparkling jewels and changes into seven different lavish costumes during the show.

Her favorite outfit is a white can-can dress with orange tights, orange shoes and an orange hat.

Unlike some showgirls, she looks as good in street clothes as she does in the costumes.

Rhonda, who is 5' 8" tall is ambitious to become a photographic model.

She is well qualified. Few girls do a modelling course twice, but Rhonda completed the first one when she was nine.

Once more she practised on the catwalk when she was 15, hoping the extra training would help her to become a good model.

She wasn't keen on working as a showgirl, but her parents, brother and boyfriends all encouraged her to give it a try.

The show, which was successful in Sydney, had its Melbourne premiere last Friday night.

Rhonda said: "I didn't like Sydney. It's dirty and overcrowded. But I loved the beaches."

It seems that the beautiful people of show business get tired of looking glamorous.

HORROR

Rhonda said: "The cast of Casino de Paris organised a horror party while we were in Sydney."

"The whole cast turned up looking ghoulish with green and white make-up and rags."

"I was just another vampire."

"I wore white pancake make up and looked marvellously hideous."

"We had black candles lit and spooky things hanging from the ceiling."

"After that it wasn't such an effort to get dressed and look good for the show the next day."

THE BABY

Rhonda is the baby among the showgirls. Most of them are about 22.

Miss Nattriss, who is stage director of the show, says Rhonda is hard working and reliable.

Rhonda describes herself as a basic type of person.

She said: "I'm not aiming for anything great in life."

"I just want to do well at everything I try."

After leaving Altona High School three years ago, Rhonda completed a business course and worked as a house model.

TRICKS

She said: "It was a good experience. A fashion house is the best place to learn the tricks of the trade."

Rhonda prefers modelling to working as a showgirl.

She said: "You're not really gaining anything, in my job, because once you learn your routine, there is nothing more."

"It doesn't have enough challenge."

Rhonda would like to travel around Australia and to Europe.

"I don't want to get married for at least another two years."

"There is so much to do and see."

Would she ever work as a showgirl again?

© Rhonda said: "No. Once is enough."

Top police cadet

"I suppose you've guessed from the way I'm speaking I'm very proud and excited," said Mrs. Chalmers.

Her son David was the top cadet at the Victoria Police graduation ceremony last Friday.

Mrs. Chalmers said: "His senior instructor told me that normally he would have been dux of his class as well, except for unusually strong competition."

David was defeated narrowly by two recruits for the top honors.

He was injured last year playing football for South Melbourne thirds.

David was educated at Altona High.

He has two brothers Noel, a plumber and Ian, who is in the navy.

Pamela Kay Footner chose an Edwardian gown of silk organza when she married Peter Ward at Holy Trinity Church of England, Williamstown. Pamela is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. 30 years' service to our hospital

More than 30 years' voluntary service to Altona District Hospital - a wonderful record by any standard.

That and more has been the lot of Altona's number-one citizen, Mrs. Edith Roach, who for 22 years was the honorary manager-secretary of the hospital.

Added to this she was many years with the hospital. Mrs. Roach said: "I've always been interested in Altona, it's been good to my husband and I."

She is still the captain of Koorringal Golf Club Associates and a member of the Altona Bowling Club.

Her husband Eric is the immediate past president of the club.

Mrs. Roach is still active within the hospital as a member of the Board of Management and chairwoman of the house committee meetings.

Asked why she spent so service to the hospital and the community at large, Altona council saw fit to present her with a citizenship of Altona award.

This is the first ever to be awarded to a woman and the second ever awarded.

When Mrs. Roach joined the hospital in 1946 it had only 10 beds.

Since then she has watched it grow, with justifiable pride, to a modern 22-bed hospital.

Mrs. Roach said: "My husband, sister and I have all been patients at the hospital."

"We appreciate the convenience of not having to travel into the city to visit sick relatives and friends."

In appreciation of her

The hospital's board of management presented her with a silver tea service in the same year, 1969.

As for the future, Mrs. Roach intends keeping active within the hospital.

MARCHING GIRLS TRY BIG TIME

The Altona City Marching Girls have taken part in their first country competition.

It was held at Victoria Park in Echuca with 80 teams competing - 27 of them midgets.

In the competitions the team finished second in the department and sixth overall.

Linda Clark came second in the selections for best bandleader as well.

A trip on a river boat and a barbecue took place after the competition.

The team arrived back at Altona about 11 on Sunday night.

Past your eyes milko's horse

A North Altona milkman found himself in Footscray Court last Thursday to answer a charge of going through a red light - after his horse had bolted through the Geelong-Williamstown roads intersection.

The milkman, Edmund Phillip Boyce, of Blackshaws Road, North Altona, told the court:

"The horse wanted to go and got a run on. It was a new horse to the district and I didn't want to pull it up because the previous day it became excited and almost side-swiped a car."

Police said they saw a horse-drawn, four-wheel milk cart travelling north along Geelong Road at 6.20 a.m. on December 16.

They said the horse stopped at the intersection, but then proceeded to cross against the red light.

Mr. E. M. Ross, SM, found the charge proved, but adjourned the case to a date not exceeding 52 weeks.

BIG ART SHOW

Esso Standard Oil have arranged a $40,000 painting exhibition for the Altona Arts Festival.

Altogether 25 paintings will be on display, with their estimated values ranging from $250 to $18,000.

Included among the works will be a Dobell worth $18,000 and called Bondi Beach.

Other paintings that will be on show are Sir Russell Drysdale's Roughneck, worth $7900 and Albert Tucker's Brolga in the Bush ($2500).

Police crisis

Cr. Carlsson moved at Altona council's meeting last week that another letter should be sent to the Victorian Chief Secretary about the urgent need for a police station in North Altona and for additional policemen.

Cr. Sommers said: "Gangs have caused trouble at two dances recently."

"They disrupted a church and a school dance."

"I think schools should have sufficient bouncers to keep troublemakers out until more police arrive."

"The help of the police is particularly needed on Friday and Saturday nights."

CHURCH GROUP

The regional meeting of the Catholic Mothers' Club Federation was held at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Altona, last week.

President of the Federation, Mrs. Kohn, was present and enjoyed a pleasant informal discussion with members from Kingsville, Laverton, Newport, Spotswood and Williamstown.

CAUGHT WELCOMING THE NEW YEAR

A foolish prank was how Mr. F. Clancy SM described a New Year's celebration which brought a 21-year-old Altona man to Williamstown court last week.

John Cooper, of Hancock Street, Altona, pleaded guilty to a charge of having been found without lawful excuse on the roof of a building in Pier Street.

Detective First Constable Smith, of Williamstown CIB told the court he interviewed Cooper on January 3 about wilful damage to shops in Pier and Railway Streets on January 1.

Detective Smith said Cooper told him he held a party on New Year's Eve, and about 11.40 everyone decided to go to Pier Street to bring in the New Year.

Climbed pole

Cooper said everyone began to sing and dance in the street, and he climbed up a pole on to verandah roofs.

Detective Smith said Cooper told him he heard the sound of glass breaking. By the time he climbed down the pole,

Rates time runs out

This interest will be charged for all the time the rates have been due — since December 10 last year.

For elderly residents who can't pay, the rates debt will be charged against the property and paid when it is sold.

PLAYS A GRADE TENNIS AT 63

Meg Harrington of Station Street, Altona, says there's a limit to what you can do when you reach the age of 63.

Coming from her this may seem surprising when you consider she still plays A grade tennis.

It's even more surprising to learn her real age.

She doesn't look a day over 50.

But Mrs. Harris insists that A grade tennis can be tiring at 63, so now she has taken up playing golf as well.

Her other main interest, long distance swimming, has gone by the board.

She says any swimming now leaves a painful reminder in the form of aches and pains in the morning.

Tennis has been the main interest in Mrs. Harrington's very active life.

Her associations with Altona and tennis go back more than 40 years.

She was a member of the Newport Club for about 35 years in which time she was runner-up for the Williamstown District Lawn Tennis Association Open Championship seven times.

Mrs. Harrington says a bad attack of nerves before the final always stopped her chances, despite sedatives from doctors before matches.

She is now a vice-president of the Altona Tennis Club and also a past president.

She still plays the occasional A grade match for Altona, but now her main weekly sporting activity is playing golf.

In addition to this, Mrs. Harrington takes a course at a health studio every winter, and does the odd bit of weight-lifting along with other assorted exercises.

She says it's important to keep fit.

She adds: "When I see people 10 years younger than I am struggling down the road to do their shopping I hope I will never feel the way they look."

"When I was 45 my mother used to tell me off for playing tennis."

"She kept saying it was about time I gave it away, or I might have a heart turn."

"If only she could see me now."

the court he interviewed Duncan on January 1.

He said Duncan told him he went to a New Year's Eve party at John Cooper's home in Hancock Street, and later went dancing in Pier Street.

Duncan said he heard someone yell out "smash the window," and he picked up a piece of wood and broke the window of the barber's shop.

He ran away when he heard another window break, he said.

Drinking
Detective Smith said Duncan told him the only reason he broke the window was because he had been drinking heavily.

Mr. Clancy told Duncan, although he was affected by alcohol, his act was far more than a foolish prank.

Mr. Clancy added he would not send Duncan to goal because of his youth and because he had no previous convictions.

He fined him $250 and $29 costs to Mr. Edwards for the cost of having sign writing put on the new window.

Mr. Clancy told Duncan he could pay the fine in $10-a-week installments, providing the costs and the first $10 were paid within seven days.

Pleaded guilty
Eighteen-year-old William George Duncan, of Civic Parade, Altona, pleaded guilty to a wilful damage charge.

Mr. Henry Edwards, who runs a hairdressing business at 79 Pier Street, Altona, told the court he found the shop's front window smashed when he arrived on January 1.

He said several items were missing from inside the window.

He told Mr. F. Clancy the window was plate glass and was insured for $200. The painting on the window cost $29.

Detective First Constable Lindsay Smith, of Williamstown police, told

Camera club's full programme

The Altona Camera Club's meeting last Friday week was a busy one.

Speakers at the club covered a wide variety of subjects.

These ranged from photographing engine parts to enlarging ordinary pictures to three or four feet.

The club also discussed fund-raising for a club house and saw slides taken by Kevin Hart and Bev Bibby.

Some of these slides will be included in the audio visual production on Altona that the club is preparing for the arts festival.

The club's competition, Ships and Sea, is being held over until the end of April when judging will be combined with the April competition.

.1107 READING: LOSES LICENCE

A Brooklyn man, who had a blood-alcohol content reading of .1107 had his licence cancelled for three months and was fined $60 at Footscray Court last Thursday.

Peter Madzar, of Stenhouse Avenue, Brooklyn, pleaded guilty to exceeding .05, but not guilty to exceeding 35 mph when he faced Mr. E. M. Ross SM.

Police said Madzar was observed travelling south-west in Geelong Road at 7.30 p.m. on November 15.

They said his speed was checked for seven-tenths of a mile between Robbs Road and Somerville Road at between 45 and 60 mph.

Police said Madzar was doing between 50 and 60 mph after he passed the Kingsville police station and passed through the Geelong-Somerville Roads intersection at 55 mph.

They said Madzar's breath smelt of intoxicating liquor.

"He said he had had his first beer at 3 p.m. that day," police said.

They said a breath test reading showed he had a blood-alcohol content of .1107 per cent.

Madzar, in evidence, said he did not exceed 35 mph at any stage.

Mr. Ross fined Madzar $40 for exceeding .05 and $20 on the speeding charge.

There's banking in the blood

There's banking in the Black blood.

Mr. Eric Black, who has just been appointed manager of the Altona East State Savings Bank, follows in the banking footsteps of his father Harry, who was for many years manager of the Williamstown branch.

Together, the pair has been banking for a total of 70 years.

And just for good measure, Eric's son Peter works with the SSB's Newport branch!

Eric, who comes to Altona from the State Savings Bank's business promotions department in the city, knows the area well. His family settled in Williamstown in the 1920s.

He is president of the Williamstown Lions Club and district treasurer and cabinet secretary of Lions International.

His wife Pam is president of the Lions Ladies' auxiliary while sons Peter and Sandy are president and secretary of the local Leo Club.

His daughters, Meredith and Katherine, are still at school.

Service seems to be the key to Mr. Black's nature.

During the war, he served in Europe, as a navigator in the RAF Coastal Command, station in Iceland.

His spare time is all but taken up with Lions.

"I don't play any sports like golf or cricket, because I think with the amount of time I spend on Lions I couldn't do justice to any game.

"Any spare time I get I spend with my family or in the garden.

"I have a sneaking interest in football and follow Geelong, but like Footscray the blighters just don't seem to be able to win a game."

Footnote: Mr. Black

wishes through the Star, to apologise to the many Greek and Yugoslav people who have experienced language problems applying for housing loans. He says this will be remedied in the immediate future.

RSL dance

The Altona Returned Servicemen's Memorial Club dance will be held this Saturday night.

Patrons are asked to bring their own supper and admission will be 75 cents.

An excellent band has been organised for the affair.

The club will hold its annual Anzac Day march on Sunday April 18 and it will begin at 10.30 a.m.

The march will move from the club rooms to the civic centre, where the mayor, Cr. Grant, will be guest speaker.

1/2 PRICE TO GIFT

Railway fares have been cut by up to half on Easter Monday for people travelling by train to the Stawell Gift.

The Victorian Railway Commissioners have announced an adult return fare of $4.35 or $5.90 first class.

Family tickets are also available, and these will allow up to five children under 16 with an adult fare passenger to travel for one quarter of the adult fare.

The train will collect passengers from Footscray at 8.15 a.m. and Newport at 8.21 a.m.

For the return journey it will leave Stawell at 5.45 p.m. arriving in the city at about 10 p.m.

LICENCE GOES, BUT TO APPEAL

Mr. F. Clancy gave a Seaholme man, convicted in Williamstown Court last week on a .05 per cent. charge, permission to drive until an appeal against the conviction is heard.

Rodney Herbert Miller made a formal plea of guilty to a charge of driving in Kororoit Creek Road on October 22, 1970, while his blood alcohol level was greater than .05.

Police evidence was not given in this case, because the prosecutions defence witness, Constable Brendan Foran, of Newport police, was giving evidence in another case in the second division of the court.

Police prosecutor, Senior Constable R. Wyllie, tendered a breath test sheet as the prosecution's only evidence.

The blood alcohol level shown on the sheet was .08 per cent.

Mr. A. J. Fisher (for Miller) offered no objections to the blood test result being the only evidence tendered.

Mr. Fisher submitted a plea for leniency for Miller, whom he said needed his driver's licence for his job as a real estate agent.

Mr. Fisher said Miller was not a heavy drinker. On the day he was charged he had business in a Richmond Hotel, where several contracts had to be signed.

Mr. Fisher added Miller had eight five-ounce glasses of beer while he was working.

Mr. Fisher pointed out that Miller was a very small, light man, and so his blood alcohol level was raised higher by that amount of beer than would be the case for a heavier man.

He added Miller would not even have been charged in other States with a .08 reading.

He said Miller was 54, and needed his licence for his job which involved driving clients into the country to visit properties.

Mr. Fisher submitted Mr. Clancy should give Miller a chance by not cancelling his licence.

Mr. Clancy said he sympathised with Miller, but the charge was a serious one.

He added that legislation in this case took away his discretionary powers and cancelling a licence was compulsory.

Mr. Clancy added he could not justify letting Miller go without recording a conviction.

He fined him $30, with seven days to pay, and disqualified him from driving for three months.

He later gave Miller permission to drive until an appeal is heard, and set $50 as surety.

Pollution meeting

Cr. Crofts reported at the general purposes meeting that he attended a public meeting at the Organisation Centre, Queen Street, Altona, where 40 people discussed pollution problems in Altona.

This committee elected officer bearers and set up a vigilante committee which is responsible to report all pollution problems.

Cr. Crofts advised that he had replied on behalf of the City of Altona to the committee outlining the action already taken by council and said that at present council was preparing prosecutions against smells and odors.

He advised the committee on how difficult it is to obtain information and stated that the council would appreciate it if this pollution committee would report all complaints to the council.

CAMERA CLUBS ARE TEACHERS

Not mad-keen on photography? You simply want souvenir snap shots or record shots of family occasions?

Even a simple camera will give you just this. But will your results always be good? Camera clubs teach you to compose your picture.

Photographs of children staring into the camera with grins like toothpaste ads are not half as appealing as those captured where they are doing something.

Imagine a little girl holding a flower and looking at it, the soft curls emphasised with back lighting.

The absence of harsh light on the face, forcing the child to screw up her face, adds to the appeal.

But you say: "How to do this without having the sun coming towards your camera?"

This is where your camera club could provide you with the know-how.

Why not come along sometime — but do not be disappointed if you do not find the answer to your problem straight away.

A syllabus is planned ahead for the year and special nights are set aside for questions.

However, there is always a chance to ask some questions over the friendly cuppa.

May 6 has been set aside for a lecture on the uses of nature in photography.

Mrs. Lock judged the recent competitions and gave her results in portrait to: Mr. T. Young 1, Mrs. M. Wyatt 2, Mrs. I. Trist; and open to: Mr. R. Winduss, Mr. T. Young, Mr. A. Lindsay.

ANZAC DAY

The Williamstown Sub-branch of the RSL is arranging an Anzac Day commemoration service to be held at the Cenotaph on April 18, at 3 p.m.

The sub-branch wrote to Williamstown Council asking if council could make the usual arrangements for amplifying facilities.

It also asked council to supply forms for elderly people at the service to sit on.

MORE MEMBERS

Members of the Western Suburbs All Breeds Kennel Club are steadily growing in numbers.

The club secretary, Mrs. Sanderson, says it's hoped to provide more social and showing activities to cater for all members' needs.

Mrs. Sanderson says an interesting and varied list of speakers has been prepared for this year by the monthly meeting organiser, Mr. Max Neilson.

The next show event presented by the club will be held on April 10, and the next social outing will be a trots night on May 15.

LANGUAGE EXPERT AS ROTARY GUEST

Guest speaker at last week's dinner meeting of Rotary was Mr. Albert Tan, an instructor in Indonesian language studies at Point Cook R.A.A.F. base.

Mr. Tan outlined the history of the school of languages and the success it had. He said the school was primarily aimed at training diplomats and servicemen destined for duty in South-East Asia. Mr. Tan said he was surprised that European languages were the principal languages taught in Australian schools.

Annual mothers' meeting

The mayor, Mr. D. K. Grant, was the guest of honor at the Altona West Kindergarten Committee's annual meeting this week.

Mrs. E. Woodhead was elected president of the club as a result of Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Grieve for their hard work for the children during the year.

The retiring president, Mrs. W. Hartley, was elected vice-president.

New secretary is Mrs. V. Kip.

Other office bearers are Mrs. M. McAuley, assistant secretary, Mrs. J. Davidson, treasurer and Mrs. Robinson, assistant treasurer.

Mr. Grant answered questions from committee members about the Altona Council.

He later invited members of the committee, their husbands and friends to the next council meeting as his guests.

Earlier in the meeting the secretary read the annual report, which itemized the club's social activities during the year.

She mentioned an evening at the Chevron Hotel, which raised $94 for club funds, a cookery demonstration, sewing demonstrations and lectures on jewellery.

The secretary also mentioned several new

Scouts and Guides

The Patrol Leaders and Training Day held recently at Peter Frazer Hall, Footscray, was a great success and well attended by 108 guiding personnel from the West Metropolitan Region.

Activities covered were: Miming and acting (thinking for yourself); tent patching, lantern cleaning, meat safe and grease pit; tents and screening; International Guiding; First Aid; handicrafts.

During the day dolls dressed in Guide uniforms of other countries and entered by the Guide Units from all the region were judged. Ethiopia, entered by 2nd Deer Park Guides, was judged the most correct and neatly dressed. The new region badge was on sale and the Region Magazine, also a new innovation, was on view. A campfire ended a very friendly and profitable day.

The Garden Party held by the West Metropolitan Region Extension Branch Auxiliary in Williamstown on Saturday, March 20, was a tremendous success and raised $215 for the auxiliary.

Thanks go to all the people who helped us in so many ways before, during and after the day and especially to Mrs. McConville, who opened her home to us.

The curtain rises

-By THISBE

The Victorian Drama League is conducting a weekend drama school and workshop over the Queen's Birthday weekend, June 11-14.

The school will be held at Whitehall, Back Beach Road, Sorrento, where full accommodation has been arranged. There is a tennis court available for spare time activity.

Three dynamic tutors have been engaged, and for those who are prepared to concentrate and work hard, an exciting school is promised, which will prove to be of immense value to all participating.

The tutors can work effectively only with small groups, and a limit of 18 students per class has been imposed and will be adhered to strictly.

The enrolment is therefore limited to 56 students, and no extras can be considered.

The first 56 people to send in their enrolment fee of $5, with an enrolment form will be accepted. This fee is not refundable.

The full cost of the school, including accommodation, meals and tutoring, is $25.

The closing date for enrolment is April 12, and closing date for the payment of the balance of the fee is May 10.

The tutors will be:

Band fair

success

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Williamstown City Band say the band last week was a big success.

The winner of the competition for double bed blankets was Mrs. G. Gpilavakis of 9 Macquarie Street Williamstown.

Naming the bride doll was won by Anne Caldwell of Osborne Street, Williamstown and guessing the weight of the cake was won by Mr. Drysdale of Dover Road, Williamstown.

The lucky lei prize went to Peter Stewart of the Broadway, North Altona.

Chamber music program

For the more musically-minded, the Peter Edge Chamber Music Ensemble, should be one of the high spots of this year's Altona Arts Festival.

The combination of Edge and four other players from the ABC should provide a musical feast and balance an otherwise youth-orientated festival.

Players scheduled to appear are Mary Anderson, harp; Donald Scotts, violin; Paul O'Brien, viola, and Mark Jackson, cello.

The programme includes items from Mozart, Schubert, Schmitt, Haydn and Roussel.

Wanted! People with talent

The committee of the Altona Workingmen's Club, in conjunction with the Altona Arts Advisory Council, will conduct a talent quest in conjunction with the forthcoming Altona Arts Festival.

The quest will be held on two nights, April 23 and 30 in the main auditorium of the Workingmen's Club.

The last quest at the 1967 festival was a huge success, and the organisers are looking forward to making this year's bigger and better than ever.

The competition is open to all, singers, dancers, comedy acts, anybody who likes a bit of fun.

For further information entry forms are available from Mrs. N. Colville, on 397 7812, from Mr. K. Neyland, at Kiema Press, in Pier Street or from Mr. T. McGarry at the Altona Council.

Beetle night

The next beetle night at the Sommers Parade Kindergarten will be held on Thursday, April 15 at 8 p.m.

Hockey 1, Hockey 2, Hockey

Altona Hockey A team easily defeated Geelong in the final practice match before next weekend's beginning of the season.

The team seems to have rallied to their new captain-coach Max Blakiston, who played A grade with Greensborough last year.

All lines, both offensive and defensive, were strong throughout the match.

Goalkeeper Bob Verity was well supported from the back line, minimising his work.

In the forward section, Ross Ford, Shane Cronin and Allan Ballie all performed well.

Scorers: Luckoseck, Bruce, Cronin, Ford and Lenyszyn all played well, as their scoring would indicate.

CLUB NEWS

Last week a group from the Altona Elderly Citizens' Club went touring in the hills around Emerald Lake, returning through Pakenham, and Pandenham.

On Tuesday and Thursday good crowds attended the games and cards afternoons.

Last Wednesday the club was entertained by young girls from St. Joseph's College.

Mrs. R. Drysdale, Mrs. E. Edwards, Mrs. Wood-yard, Miss Hill, Mrs. V. Home, and Mrs. Butler gave a concert for the girls.

A birthday cake, cut at the meeting, was beautifully iced by Mrs. Lowman.

An enjoyable afternoon was concluded with tea.

The special effort was won by Mrs. R. Smith and Mrs. G. Hicks.

A team comprising Miss J. Hansen, Mrs. P. Benson, Mrs. M. Keershon and Mrs. A. Hansen defeated the House of Friendship.

The B team also defeated the House of Friendship.

The team was Mr. W. Dickens, Mrs. E. Snowling, Mrs. M. Strock and Mr. H. Snowling.

ALTONA CITY THRASHES PRAHRAN FOR OPENERS

Altona City came to life with a vengeance for the opening of the 1971 League season.

It taught Prahran a lesson in every department of the game. Altona won 4-0.

Healey and Ackers were the perfect backmen, both defending and opening up attacks with long searching passes.

This meant that Savage, Herman and Reid were used to full advantage.

The four goals scored by Altona could easily have been doubled had it not been for a brilliant display of goalkeeping by the opposition keeper.

Right from the kick-off, the Maroons swung into attack.

MENACING

Ian Reid was at his menacing best and Ray King, with high speed ball control, had the Prahran defence at sixes and sevens.

Savage and Herman ed the keeper, then suddenly Prahran took over and for 10 minutes gave the Altona defence a roasting.

Copley and Milloy played safe and Hynes and Bayliss tidied up behind them.

QUICK GOALS

Vanderpoel had one great save right on the line before Altona was able to assume control of the game once more.

However, once it did, two quick goals put the issue beyond doubt. Billy Savage notched both of them.

The Altona side attacked constantly, with Healey playing his best game since arriving from Juventus and King and Reid both having digs for goal that narrowly missed the upright.

In the second half, Altona turned on the best open soccer seen from a local side.

Healey, Ackers, Copley and Milloy tore the Prahran defence to shreds.

FOXED

The ball sped from man to man, King drew the full back, passed on to Reid, who darted inside, foxed the centre half and Herman, roaming in from the wing, whipped the ball home from an impossible angle.

This was great stuff and Altona supporters were watching a totally different style of play.

It was no surprise when Ian Reid knocked the post down with an unsavable cannonball shot and the Maroons were four goals up.

ROCKET

Savage blasted in a rocket shot which the keeper saved and Reid had another shot which grazed the top of the bar.

It is hard to single out any individual player for special mention, but Brian Healey (3), Ian Reid (2) and Steve Herman (1) stood out.

In the Reserves game, Altona downed Prahran three goals to nil.

EASY

Playing a superior and more constructive brand of soccer, Altona ran out easy winners.

Once Bobby Saxton and Charlie Neal learn how to finish off in front of goal, this team will take a lot of beating.

Young John Collins was a star in defence, while up front Mick Micevski was outstanding. Votes went to Collins (3), Micevski (2) and Neal (1).

Next week's game at Ringwood will be a hard one and it will be interesting to see if the Altona boys can pick up where they left off on Saturday against Prahran.

Seagulls below their top form

Williamstown struggled to defeat a Latrobe Valley side Sale at Williamstown on Saturday.

The first half was played with 18 a side and the second half with the VFAs usual 16 a side.

Sale in the black and white uniforms, was capably led by Trevor Somerville.

They kept the game close all day and worried the Seagulls.

Ant interested spectator was Coburg coach, Mick Erwin, whose side will be meeting the blue and golds in the initial game on Sunday week.

The 1970 Reserve grade umpire Pat Abbott had charge of the game and in the current umpiring mood, he let the game flow.

Ken Barnes rucked well, along with Daryl Dunlop, and rovers Kevin Jackman and Eric Giradi (who won the best and fairest for Footscray reserves) were in everything.

An RAAF lad whose name is taboo at the moment could be a real acquisition to the side if his services can be obtained.

Bob Percy and Mick Mulligan showed their quality when the going got tough.

Dallas Patterson and Brian Vaughan were a little disappointing, but there is another practice game before the season starts.

Terry Munday from Albion, was a recruit who moved perfectly. Tom Russell and Terry O'Mara defended strongly all day.

The final term proved a thriller.

Heavy clashes were frequent and Sale took a one point lead, but the Gulls were steady in a crisis and Dunlop goaled with about five minutes to go to give them a win by six points.

Scores. WILLIAMSTOWN, 9.13.67. SALE 3.13.61.

In a curtain-raiser, Williamstown Seconds scored a 15 point victory over Altona A, now coached by former Altona player and Gull in 1970, Mel Tisdale.

It was a hard game and just what a lot of players needed.

David Stark is on the injured list and may not play for five weeks. Ron Viney had his arm in a sling also.

Next Saturday, starting at 2.30 p.m. Williamstown will play its final practice match against Macleod-Rosanna, finalists in the Diamond Valley last year.

ANOTHER PREMIERSHIP FOR ELECTRA METHS.

Electra Street Meths under 16 cricket team has won its third premiership in four years in the south section of the W.S.P.C.C.A. by beating Altona Presbyterians by 54 runs.

The Under-12 team, coached by Ray Cumming, finished the year undefeated.

The club would like to thank its president, Mr. A. Wilhelms, as well as Messrs. S. Smith, F. Gerding, J. Gill, P. Jackson, A. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. N. Shaw and Miss L. Cumming for their untiring assistance to the three teams throughout the season.

The team was splendidly captained by David Smith, helped by vice-captain Jeff Scott.

Not as talented with the bat as in its previous three seasons, the team compensated by being a determined and outstanding fielding side.

The fielders supported a very fine attack in Des Keress, Graeme Dean and Jeff Scott.

Brilliant wicketkeeper Neville Keress completed the team.
